

Contemplation

The same window
many times opened

the same light
on the furniture

and the birds that,
from the eaves, witness the same setting sun

(one more delation,
an accident

and this question
– its stain
on the walls, the slopes
the mirrors
shutting against the face, this question).

